Art Unit: 3764

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 22, 23, 24, 25, 34 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cortesi.

Cortesi discloses a device comprising: a plurality of elastic bands 86' wherein said bands are placed on at least two points of contact 12 and 18, a user applies pressure and a user release pressure.

The bands having different thicknesses.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cortesi in view of Lin.

Cortesi discloses a device comprising bands of different strength, wherein Cortesi discloses the device having different thicknesses and different width.

Cortesi however does not disclose the bands as having different length.

The examiner however notes that it is well known in the art to provide elastic means, in the art of various lengths, to change the resistance forces exerted on the user of an exercising device. Note the length difference between the members 31 and 32 of Lin (6872175).

Claims 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 34 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Williams.

Williams teaches the method of claim 22 and the teaching of textured and non-textured surfaces. See the abstract and col. 3 lines 10-17.

Claims 31-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mason et al.

Note Mason et al Fig. 1, Fig. 6 and Fig. 8.

Claims 1-21 stand withdrawn without traverse. The restriction requirement of 2/11/06 is made Final.
